

RECOVERY OF TWO BODIES MAY LEAD TO MANY ARRESTS

Townpeople Openly Charge
Ku Klux Klan Members
With The Deed.

OFFICIALS EXPECT
SERIOUS TROUBLE

Declaration Of Martial
Law By Governor May Be Next Move.

Mer Rouge, La., Dec. 23. — With members of Attorney General Cocco's staff enroute here today to take charge of an inquest over the two bodies found floating in Lake La Fourche, an ominous situation held Morehouse parish in its grip.

Townpeople here openly declared the bodies found are those of Watt Daniels and Thomas Richards, who were kidnaped last August by hooded and robed men, and they charge the Ku Klux Klan members with the deed.

Bastrop, the seat of the parish government, however, is pro-Klan. Its people assert the Klan, as an organization, could have had nothing to do with the crime.

The feeling created by these pro and anti-Klan factions is serious, in the opinion not only of citizens of both places, but also of Captain Cooper commanding Company G of the Louisiana guard, and of federal investigators who traced the vanished men to Lake La Fourche.

The arrival of two expert pathologists and members of the attorney general's staff from Baton Rouge is now awaited. People are looking to Gov. Parker for the next move and they predict this move will be a declaration of martial law and order to the troops to make the arrests and start the wheels turning to an investigation by a grand jury.

At least 20 arrests are expected and some of the most prominent men of the parish, it was declared, will be involved.

Fifty additional troopers of Company G from Monroe, another company from Alexandria and a machine gun company from New Orleans, were enroute here today.

Officials are frankly expecting serious trouble at almost any moment. They declare, however, they can handle the situation. Threats, according to men who say they have received them, have been sent by telephone, by mail and by personal messengers.

Department of justice operative were seen under close guard last night for they are believed to hold evidence which will result in the expected arrests. For three months they have been following every possible clue to the case and the finding of the missing bodies furnished the missing link for the chain of evidence which has long been nearly complete. An open hearing over the two corpses, which are under close guard of troops here, will be demanded by Mer Rouge citizens.

TWELVE-HOUR DAY DEFENDED BY GARY

Longer Day Necessary To
Steel Business, U. S.
Steel Head Says.

Chicago, Dec. 23. — "The 12-hour day is absolutely necessary to the steel industry at the present time." This was the statement today of Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the board of the U. S. Steel corporation who is here to spend Christmas with his daughter.

Business—especially the steel business—could not completely adopt the eight-hour day, Gary said. Ethically and socially, the eight-hour day is right; economically it is not feasible now, he declared.

"If we arbitrarily adopted the eight-hour day," Gary said, "we would increase our production costs immensely, as we would be forced to pay the men almost as much for eight hours as they now get for 12."

"Even then we would be unable to get sufficient workmen. It would mean higher prices for the steel. This would be a bad thing for the steel business and the country."

Germany and France are going back to the 12-hour day because they must produce and compete with the United States, he asserted.

Gary said he was in favor of increased immigration "but with strict regard to quality than quantity."

MAIL CARRIERS TO MAKE TRIP MONDAY

Postoffice service for Christmas day was announced Saturday by Postmaster George H. Mounts. City carriers will make one trip Monday morning and the extra parcel post carriers will make a delivery in the morning in an effort to clean up the accumulation of Christmas cards and packages.

Rural carriers are required to make their regular trips on Christmas day. The general delivery and stamp windows at the postoffice will be open from 8 to 10 a. m. Monday.

HERE'S PLACE WHERE SANTA DOESN'T STOP

Fifty Widows, 200 Orphaned Children Will Have Scanty Fare.

Spangler, Pa., Dec. 23.—The outside world has forgotten the explosion here two months ago which killed 76 miners and maimed 35 others at the Reilly mine.

Fifty widows and 200 orphaned children ranging from infants in arms to boys and girls of 14 or 15 years of age, will celebrate Christmas moderately because their loved ones are up on the hillside never to return and there is no money to buy presents.

There is nothing with which to buy turkeys or chickens or ducks. The widows and orphans must be content as a rule with scanty fare. But the men and youths who perished were good union men. The United Mine Workers hereabouts have not forgotten. They know what the tragedy of the Reilly mine means. So far as their means permit the union miners here and hereabouts have chipped in to aid those left almost penniless and destitute by the great explosion.

Church And School Unite In Program

Phillips church Sunday school and Fairview school, both south of Salem, united in giving a Christmas entertainment Friday evening at the church. Decorations in keeping with the season adorned the church. A program of orchestra music, dialogues and recitations was given.

Miss Ava Barnes is teacher of this school and she gave her pupils a treat Friday afternoon at the school. The children remembered her with gifts.

Mr. And Mrs. Santa Will Visit Church

Tuesday evening the Bible school of the First Baptist church will hold its Christmas service at which a cantata entitled "The Christmas Secret" will be given. Both Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus will have part in the festivities. A treat will be given the younger members of the school.

Prisoner Is Released

Tony Caparella, of East Palestine, who had been sentenced to county jail for non payment of a fine of $1,000 imposed by Mayor A. W. Ferren for violation of the liquor laws, was released today, arrangements having been made for the payment of the costs and Tony is to pay $25 a month on his fine.

John E. Weingart of Berlin Center has completed work on a well at the rear of the Famous Dairy company store room, Main st. In drilling for water a depth of 257 feet was reached, going through 119 feet of quick sand.

Christmas Finds Holy Land Most Desolate Place

Jerusalem, Palestine, Dec. 23.—This Christmas season finds the Holy land and the whole Near East the most desolate place since the sacred feet of the Saviour trod the roadways of this city.

More than 1,000,000 Christians have been forced into exile as a result of the Turkish military victory over the Greeks. This vast army of fugitives has been compelled to flee from home and friends within three months. More than 500,000 others face a similar fate.

The only thing which can save the remaining Greek, Armenian, Bulgarian and Rumanian Christians in Turkey from exile is allied pressure upon the Turks in the Near East peace conference at Lausanne.

Shut Electricity Off Short Period Sunday Afternoon

In order to complete the connections for the additional transformer at the power plant here, the Salem Lighting Co. announces that power throughout the city will be shut off from 2 to 3:30 p. m. Sunday.

This will complete the improvements at the plant and the addition of another transformer will mean that repairs can be made in the future without shutting off the power.

WAR ON BOOTLEG TRADE DECLARED BY U. S. SENATOR

Congressional Probe Is Threatened As Result Of Charges.

Washington, Dec. 23.—A congressional investigation of alleged dry law violations in the shadow of the capital dome was threatened today as the result of a series of charges of open traffic in forbidden intoxicants among civilians, members of congress and officials of the government.

Charges that bootleggers had invaded the sacred corridors of the senate in search of Christmas trade led to an open declaration of war from Senator Curtis, Republican of Kansas, chairman of the powerful senate rules committee.

Curtis issued instructions to senate police to arrest on sight every man detected carrying liquor, soliciting sales or actually engaged in selling it. "I told the sergeant-at-arms of the senate to instruct every policeman on duty day and night in the senate or senate office building to arrest on sight any man engaged in the bootlegging business or even in soliciting sales of liquor," Curtis said.

Nothing Will Save Violators
"I do not know of a single violation personally and I do not know whether the charges are true but if they are we intend to stamp out this traffic at once. My instructions were to make arrests no matter who was back of the violator or to whom he was making the sale. No amount of political influence will save the man caught violating the prohibition law in the capitol."

In the house meanwhile, congressmen were plainly exercised by the charges of Representative Upshaw, Democrat of Georgia, that cabinet members, senators and representatives were openly violating the Volstead act. They were also waiting action by the White House on Upshaw's appeal to President Harding for a proclamation calling on government officials to personally observe the Volstead act. Enroute to his home in Georgia he declared he would return after Christmas, to "make Washington as dry as the Sahara."

COMEDY PLAYLET GIVEN BY GRANGE

A playlet entitled "Dr. Ketchum and Dr. Killum" was a mirth provoking feature of a Christmas program given at a meeting of Goshen grange Friday evening. The roles of doctors were taken by William Miskimmins and Kenwood Gray, and others having part in it were George Miskimmins, Phillip Miller, John Wolford and Kendall Ingram. This is the program:

Drill by five girls, Hazel Gray, Beulah Riddle, Elizabeth Ingram, Dorothy Calvin Conway and Homer Gray; monologue, Bertha Kent; drill by seven boys, Homer Gray, Calvin Conway, Clifford Stratton, Paul Stratton, Luther Wolford, Charles Miller, Homer Miskimmins; song by five girls; paper, "The Grange Jollier," Frank Townsend.

Two candidates were initiated in the third and fourth degrees. A Christmas tree and a treat were features.

Wife Slayer Found Guilty By Jurors

New York, Dec. 23.—Death sentence will be passed Tuesday on Abraham Becker, found guilty of first degree murder for killing his wife, Jennie, on April 7 last and burying her in a lime pit.

The jury's verdict, rendered after 55 minutes' deliberation was received with stoical calm by the prisoner.

A very quiet Christmas will be spent in the Holy City. A little handful of American and British pilgrims will visit the church of the Holy Sepulchre at Nazareth, where Christ lived before he began the pilgrimage which converted virtually the whole world from paganism to Christianity.

There will be a Christmas dinner for the Armenian orphans given by the Near East relief administration. It will not be such a dinner as children in the United States will eat, but it will be a feast for the homeless little Armenians.

In the past year the United States has contributed $12,000,000 for relief work in Near East countries.

"Divine Sarah" Has Heart Attack

Sarah Bernhardt, now 77, and acting despite the loss of a leg, suffered a heart attack while playing recently in Paris and was forced to ring down the curtain. She declares, however, she will continue her stage career her tenth "Eternity Appearance" in America. In this photograph she is seen in the title role of "Du The're au Champ d'Honneur."

Seek Army Flier Missing After Long Flight.

Free State government offices and outposts were attacked time after time throughout the night. The attacking Republican irregulars adopted the tactics of North American Indian fighters, firing from cover and then taking flight.

Large forces of Free State troops were on patrol duty, but the attacks were so scattered that the Free Staters had difficulty in coping with the irregulars.

The civilian population was thrown into terror.
The violence extended from Dublin to Cork. Eight civilians in Cork were wounded when a bomb was thrown at a military lorry.

Erect Blockhouses To Protect Trains

Dublin, Dec. 23.—The Free State military authorities are adopting a system of blockhouses for the protection of the railways. It was learned today. On account of attempts to wreck troop trains, persons found upon railway property without a permit will be shot on sight.

Historical Marker For Boone's Home

Charlestown, W. Va., Dec. 23.—Daniel Boone's home at Kanawha City is to be designated by a marker or monument, by the Daughters of the American Revolution. Mrs. Thomas Field, of this city, has been appointed chairman of a committee.

Singing Of Carols To Usher In City's Christmas Program

Where Your Dollar Looks Big

New York, Dec. 23. — The American dollar will buy more this Christmas than the money of any other nation.
If one wished to buy foreign cash, for one dollar he could obtain 50,000,000 Russian rubles, 10,000 German marks, 750,000 Austrian kronen or 35,000 Polish marks.

ANNUAL DINNER GIVEN EMPLOYES

Three miniature Christmas trees added beauty to the large table arranged for 18 guests at the sixth annual dinner given by the Lyle Printing company at noon Saturday at its office.
The dinner was in an upstairs room resplendent with Christmas novelties. Strands of red and green paper were stretched from each corner of the ceiling to a large bell which hung over the center of the table. In one corner of the room was a "chimney" with a Santa Claus peeking out the top.

At each place at the table were miniature fireplaces with Santa Claus standing by and in this grate was the gift from the company. The menu was printed on Christmas greeting folders.
The exchange of gifts was an enjoyable feature of the festivities. Miss Lorene Ward, one of the employees, who will leave the first of January for Huntington, W. Va., was surprised when the guests presented her a silver mesh bag.

OFFERING GOES TO RESCUE HOME

A large number of people attended the Christmas service at the First Friends church Friday evening, at which a program was given by members of the Bible school. With little exception it was carried out as previously announced.
The decorations in keeping with the season were very pretty. They were arranged by a committee composed of Harry Lewis, Everett Rich and Raymond Long.
For the success of this service much credit is due the committee in charge of the program of which Miss Mary Herbert was chairman.

The offering taken amounted to $32.82 and this money will go to the Friends Rescue home, Columbus, and the Cleveland Bible Institute, Cleveland.

A treat was given the younger class of the school.

GIFTS BROUGHT TO WHITE CROSS

Pretty Christmas decorations adorned the Presbyterian church Friday evening when the Sunday school held its Christmas service. A cantata entitled "The Heart of the Bells," was given very creditably.
Members of the different classes of the school brought their gifts to a white cross and as they responded candles were lighted. The offering of over $250 will go to a new Presbyterian church in Youngstown. Some of the classes provided baskets for the needy families here.

LOYAL WORKERS GET EXTRA PAY

Baltimore, Dec. 23.—Daniel Willard, president of the B. & O. railroad today handed out Christmas presents amounting to many thousands of dollars to those men who were working in the shops and stood loyally to the company last summer during the shopcraft strike.

To every man who thus helped to keep the road in operation he gave a month's pay as a reward. He based this on a full average month. The gift came as a complete surprise.

PLAYLET GIVEN BY CHRISTIANS

A large crowd of spectators attended the Christmas program given by the children of the Christian church Sunday school, Friday night. The children taking part in the playlet, "Santa to the Rescue," were especially worthy of credit, carrying the story out smoothly. The deftness of old Santa and brilliant bits of humor throughout the program made it attractive.

Miss Ruth Zeigler accompanied the soloists at the piano.

RANDITS STEAL CHRISTMAS PAY

Pittsburg, Dec. 23.—Four masked bandits held up an automobile bearing Ross Dennis, paymaster for the Pittsburg Coal company and three guards, shot and probably fatally injured Dennis and escaped Christmas 900 in cash which was the Christmas pay being taken to the miners at Heading, 20 miles from here. Dennis was rushed to a Pittsburg hospital in a dying condition.

Community Celebration Will Be Held Around Tree On Broadway.

MUSIC AND TREAT FOR ALL CHILDREN

Needy Will Be Remembered
By Red Cross, Elks Entertain Children.

Ushered in with carols and the chime of church bells, Salem's 1923 Community Christmas celebration will begin at 6 p. m. Saturday and continue over a period of two days.
The spirit of charity and goodwill is predominant in the observance of Christmas this year, with gifts of clothing and food for Salem's needy ones occupying the leading place in the celebration here.

A Christmas party for needy children at 2 p. m. today given by Salem lodge No. 305, B. P. O. Elks was the first event on the three-day program. To bring Christmas cheer to children who otherwise probably would be forgotten, the lodgemen arranged a huge Christmas tree and entertained the children in the club parlors.

In addition to gifts of candy and fruit the children received underwear, stockings, mittens, sweaters, toques and other articles of wearing apparel. The lodge gives a party similar to this one each year and prepared to entertain about 125 children this afternoon. Other younger children not included on the lodge's list will be cared for by other organizations.

Promptly at 6 p. m. the church bells will begin to chime announcing the official opening of the community celebration. A chorus of carol singers, under the direction of J. William Filson will assemble at the Community Christmas tree at Broadway and Main and render a program of Christmas numbers. Music by the Quaker City band will be an added feature. This group of singers will also visit the Home for Aged Women, City hospital and Central Clinic Sunday afternoon where they will give a program of Christmas numbers for inmates.

The community tree, a 31-foot pine, erected on Broadway and Main and trimmed with electric lights, the entire affair being donated by Salem citizens for the community celebration, will be illuminated at 6 p. m. today.

Will Distribute Treat
More than 1,000 pop corn balls and sticks of candy will be distributed to the children under the tree following the program of carols. Salem Boy Scouts will be on hand to take care of the traffic.
Salem's needy ones will be provided with food, clothing and other gifts through the co-operation of the American Red Cross, Salvation Army and Salem churches who have arranged to furnish bountiful Christmas dinners in addition to articles of clothing and toys for the little folk.
Christmas entertainments and cantatas have been arranged in practically every church in the city and surrounding communities. Special musical programs have been prepared for the Christmas services in all churches.

ELKS PLAY SANTA TO 142 CHILDREN

Underwear, Toques, Gloves,
Sweaters And Candy Distributed.

Santa Claus, with the assistance of Salem lodge No. 305, B. P. O. Elks, dispensed Christmas cheer and gifts to 142 of Salem's needy children shortly after 2 p. m. Saturday, at the Elks club.

A huge Christmas tree centered the club parlors where the children were entertained. Here Santa Claus and his assistants took charge of things and happy smiles adorned the faces of the children as they were regaled with Christmas gifts of every description.

Candy and fruits were given as edibles while underwear, warm wool sweaters and toques, stockings and gloves were supplied in the clothing line. Toys in the form of "skooters" were the last contribution of the afternoon.

Cards were sent out to children deemed worthy of assistance by the lodgemen and children ranging in age from 4 to 14 years were given an abundance of Christmas cheer which they otherwise might have lacked this year.

Blot Out Ignorance

AN intelligent public is the surest guarantee against anarchy and all the varied and various schemes, dreams, plans, programs and propaganda of the visionaries and half-baked philosophers and the restless wrath of those who frankly hate the restraints of any form of government.

If it be true that in America there are in excess of 5,000,000 illiterate adults, and more than 6,000,000 children between 5 and 18 years old who are not in any school, the serious-minded citizen should exert himself in the effort to cure this evil, which, like cancer, continuously is sending forth its filaments to poison and inflame the public body.

It is to be regretted that our native illiteracy, so to speak, is large beyond the common comprehension, but when we add to this the steady stream of low intelligence which, in spite of every precaution, continues to flow hitherward from Europe, we have a situation which should excite the most serious forebodings in the minds of those who recognize in educational development and progress the one stable base that can assure the perpetuity of a worth-while civilization.

The remedy for this situation is simple, easily applied, and, as the wise Jefferson declared: "Let our countrymen know that the tax which will be paid for this purpose (education) is not more than a thousandth part of what will be paid if we leave the public in ignorance."

Those words are as true today as when they were uttered by one of the most far-seeing statesmen the nation has produced.

As to the methods essential to relieve this disease which so threatens the future of the republic, persistent and intensive effort must be made to reclaim our ignorant millions, but, particularly, to preserve the new and coming millions, from the blight and danger of ignorance.

More and better teachers must be had, for they constitute the ablest constructive force in the nation. Every civic interest and influence must be brought to bear in dealing with this problem, to the end that the nation may "grow in power and knowledge, in human understanding and tolerance as the primary conditions of national progress."

He will return next Wednesday morning and will resume the hearing in the case of The Victoria Electric Supply company of Toronto, Canada, against the Adamant Porcelain company of East Liverpool which has been on trial all week.

The case in which $115,000 is involved, was called for trial last Monday morning and Arthur Wynston, of Toronto, Can., the head of the plaintiff company, was on the witness stand in direct and cross examination for three and one-half days. ### Lisbon's Tree To Be Lighted Sunday Night

Lisbon, Dec. 23.—Lisbon's Community Christmas tree, which stands 35 feet high on the south part of the square, will be decorated by the committee on Saturday afternoon, ready for illumination on Sunday evening, Christmas eve. The tree was wired on Friday morning and the committee in charge of the decorations states that they have received more than sufficient decorations with which to beautify the tree. On Christmas eve, when the lights are turned on, the community choir under the direction of Mrs. Mary Marquis will gather underneath the same, and sing a number of Christmas songs.

The Community tree was made possible by the Kiwanis club of Lisbon, and through this organization 40 families in Lisbon, almost all of which have children in the home, who would otherwise have had no Christmas will be made happy when each family will receive a Christmas basket.

AN OLD CHRISTMAS CUSTOM

Village Boys in North England Reproduce Play That Is as Old as the Race.

IN THE North of England some of the oldest of our Christmas customs are still faithfully observed. One of the quaintest is that of the village boys who call themselves "The Mummings." At Christmas time they perform a little play that is as old as the English race.

There are three chief characters—St. George, resplendent in silver-padded armor, and brandishing a wooden sword; Beelzebub, who is, of course, the famous dragon; and the Doctor, who wears a battered top-hat.

At the beginning of the play it is announced that the countryside is being laid waste by Beelzebub. Various minor characters make an appeal for deliverance from the monster's sway. Then St. George bursts upon the scene. A fierce battle takes place, in which he slays Beelzebub, but is himself badly wounded. At this point the Doctor rushes in with a bottle, which he places to the saint's lips.

"Tak soon o' mah niff-naff dahn thy tiff-taff," he prescribes. So George drinks and is cured.

Some of the words used in the play are so old that neither the boys nor the majority of the audience can understand them.

UNCLE SAM TAKES IN LESS MONEY

DECREASE OF 30 PER CENT IN INTERNAL REVENUE BUREAU COLLECTIONS LAST YEAR.

TOTAL WAS $3,197,451,083

Cost of Operation Has Increased $1.30 for Each $100 Collected—Other Interesting Facts in Commissioner Blair's Report.

By EDWARD B. CLARK

Washington.—This is to some extent a statistical letter, but occasionally figures coupled up with tax facts are not uninteresting. The annual report of the commissioner of internal revenue for the fiscal year which ended June 30 last has just been made public.

Last year the operations of the internal revenue bureau resulted in the collection of $3,197,451,083 as compared with $4,595,357,061 in the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1921. The decrease is about a billion and a third dollars, or roughly, 30 per cent.

It is probable that the average American citizen would like to know how much it costs to collect the taxes in the United States. Here is what Commissioner Blair has to say upon the subject:

"The cost of administering the internal revenue laws for the fiscal year 1922, was $41,577,374.49. This does not include expenditures from the appropriations for refunding internal revenue collections and for refunding taxes legally collected, which are in no sense administrative expenses, but are properly deductions from the gross receipts. The cost of operation for the year on this basis was $1.30 for each $100 collected, compared with 87 cents for the preceding year. Included in these expenditures, however, was $7,202,723.97 for the administration of the prohibition and narcotic laws (of which amount $658,728.77 was for the enforcement of the narcotic law) and $88,000 for the enforcement of the child-labor section of the revenue act of 1918. Deducting these amounts from the total, leaves $34,236,651.42 as the expenditure for collecting the internal revenue taxes for the fiscal year 1922, which is equivalent to $1.07 for each $100 collected. The cost of collection on a similar basis for the fiscal year 1921, was 72 cents for each $100 collected.

"The difference in the relative cost of collection for the fiscal years 1921 and 1922 is due mainly to the large reduction in the revenues for 1922, incident to the shrinkage in business and incomes, the repeal of certain miscellaneous war taxes and various provisions of law, such as the amortization of war-time facilities and the increase in individual exemptions contained in the revenue act of 1921, with the consequent reduction in the income tax liability of corporations and individuals."

Use of Cigarettes Increasing.
It is possible to get something of an idea of the extent of the smoking, chewing and snuffing habits of the people of the country from a glance at the table of taxes prepared by the tobacco division of the internal revenue bureau. The total receipts from all tobacco taxes during the fiscal year were $270,759,384, an increase of $15,539,998. The taxes on tobacco increased something more than 6 per cent over the preceding year. It is said that more cigarettes and fewer cigars are being smoked year by year by the American people. Apparently the women are sticking to cigarettes, and some men are dropping their cigars to take up the "paper weights." Prohibition has gradually increased the work of the internal revenue bureau. During the last fiscal year a complete reorganization of the activities of the prohibition unit was effected. Commissioner Blair says this has resulted in more efficient and expeditious work. The nature of the labors of the prohibition agents seems to be generally known throughout the country. It might be said, however, that during the year which the report covers a prohibition patrol service was organized consisting of six boats of the submarine chaser type. These boats patrol the Atlantic coast and the internal revenue commissioner says that they have proved effective in the prevention of smuggling.

Patrol Boats on Great Lakes.

On the Great Lakes during the fiscal year five motor patrol boats, each one of which can make 33 miles an hour, were put into service. It is said that they have been extremely serviceable in preventing smuggling of intoxicating liquor into the United States from Canada.

The internal revenue bureau distributes each year an enormous number of revenue stamps. These are printed by the government and turned over to the internal revenue commissioner, who issues them for sale to the public through the internal revenue collectors and the Post Office department.

Last year 700 different kinds of stamps of varying denominations were issued. The average current stock supply of stamps is of a value of $1,300,000,000. During the fiscal year which the report covers a total of 6,264,097,607 stamps of an aggregate money value of $413,864,005, were issued for sale to the public through the various authorized government agencies.

THE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

By Mary Graham Bonner

(© 1922, Western Newspaper Union.)

ELLEN had been feeling that there was no such thing in the world as a Christmas spirit.

During the summer, for example, she had taken a trip. Everyone seemed to enjoy it. Everyone seemed to be glad to get away from the world with its scandals and its spoilt civilization. That was what everyone said as they took the trip through the simple wilds, remote and picturesque and old.

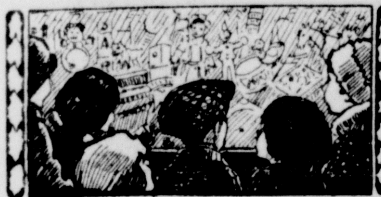

This seemed to be the life everyone longed for and then some one mentioned a scandal which had taken place nearly some months before.

With a dash everyone made for the scene—so they could tell the people back home that they had seen the locality of the scandal and Ellen had been disgusted. Was it such a sordid world after all?

Then she had taken some poor children to a big store to see the Christmas display and they had been refused admittance. The customers had objected to such crowds of children—they wanted to see the display themselves—why should poor children see the toys when they could only look? And all about the outside of the store were eager little faces peering into the windows and hoping that perhaps they could get in when the one who watched at the door was not looking. Once in a while one did and the children from outside waited for the news.

"What did you see? What did you see?" they shouted as the lucky one came out again.

Other stores had been different. Other stores had not had their rich customers complain. But it had saddened Ellen. And one of these very complainers had bought six copies of "The Christmas Carol" by Dickens to give away to friends. Ellen heard that later. It had not improved matters.

And on this same Christmas trip another she had met had said to her that these children had such shamefully poor coats and had reproved Ellen.

"I wish," the woman who had spoken so sharply to Ellen had said, "that they had some of the nice warm things belonging to my children," but when Ellen suggested that she should do something for these children she had gone off angrily.

And another person had patted her as she had seen her walking with these children and had said:

"A fine work, my dear."

And Ellen knew that the woman felt she had showed Christmas duty and Christmas service and Christmas love by making that speech.

But when Ellen began to see the trees which were sent to the city for Christmas she felt better. The smell of the trees gave her some of the Christmas spirit. Oh, yes, it was all right after all, she had been seeing only what was disagreeable and everything else had passed her by.

And then one day in the crowded section of the city she saw a small crippled newsboy go up to a Salvation army bucket and put in his donation. Helping others to have a Christmas dinner when he was none too sure of his own!

As she saw it she involuntarily smiled and a smile answered hers. A strange man was smiling at her.

Was some one going to be impatient to her? Was the incident of the little boy only going to serve as an excuse for a man to smile at her? But in another moment he was apologizing.

"I'm so sorry," he said. "I was trying to place you in my mind. I was so sure I knew you. And then I remembered that you were the picture of the girl on the cover of a magazine last Christmas which I saved all the year and so which is naturally very familiar to me. I am so sorry!"

And then Ellen laughed. For last year she had posed for one of her artist friends.

"I don't suppose you've any idea," the man continued, "how much good that picture did. I've heard so many speak of it and of the Christmas spirit it expressed. You fairly breathed it—then."

"And now I'm different?" she asked. "You don't look just as—just as Christmas?" he faltered.

And Ellen felt ashamed. For she had been critical of others and in worrying about the world's shortcomings she had lost her own Christmas spirit. But it had been merely wondering—it was not utterly lost—and the man? The man who had found it again for her?

They became friends and then they became sweethearts and they made of their love a permanent thing and were married.

And he always called Ellen his beautiful Christmas picture. And Ellen was glad that he did. It kept constantly in mind the Christmas spirit that had once almost left her for good and all!

The BAD CHILDREN'S CHRISTMAS

THIS is a story of last Christmas day; and I will tell you right away that it ended happily. But it begins sadly. It was Christmas day up at the North pole, and as usual on the day before Christmas, St. Nicholas had been hurried and rather grumpy. Only this time, Mother Nicholas thought to herself that she was just a bit grumpier than she had ever known him. And at suppers she found that she was right.

He came into the kitchen, closing his workshop door with a bang, and sat down with all the little Nicholases to his porridge.

"Well, I've said it before," he growled, "but this time I mean it. The children down there in the world will get nothing from my pack this night. It's time they were taught a lesson."

All the little Nicholases gasped, but Mother Nicholas only asked calmly: "Why, what is the matter now, father? After you've been working for them the whole year, you wouldn't go and disappoint the poor dears would you?"

"Yes, I would," declared St. Nicholas, swallowing his porridge in great gulps, and pretending that he was not a saint at all. "Half of them go around saying that there isn't any St. Nicholas, poking fun at me, and laughing in their sleeves. And the other half think it makes no difference whether they are good children or not. I'll fill their stockings just the same. It's a thankless job, I tell you. And I'm too old a man for it. So!"

"Come," said Mother Nicholas, soothingly, "here is a plate of griddle cakes. When you have eaten you will see things differently."

"No, when I have eaten I shall go to bed. That's where an old fellow like me belongs, an old fellow who children don't believe in."

Mother saw that he was determined, and that there was nothing to do for it, since griddle cakes wouldn't help. So she put her finger to her lips to motion the children silent, and went on quietly about her work. And when St. Nicholas had finished his supper, he did roll away to bed, only telling the little Nicholases to be sure to hang their stockings, for they had been good children all the year and still believed in him.

The minute the door closed behind him the little Nicholases burst into excited chatter. "Oh, what a pity! Those poor children! Surely there must be some good ones! Oh dear, what fun will Christmas be to us if all the children in the world down there are unhappy!"

"What indeed?" Mother Nicholas shook her head and looked often at the closed door, behind which St. Nicholas could already be heard snoring.

"And the reindeer!" cried the oldest boy, "what will they do without their yearly exercise? It seems as though father might have gone, if only for their sakes."

Mother Nicholas thought so, too. And at that minute they heard the reindeer's little hoofs beating on the hard snow crust at the door. Wise little beasts! St. Nicholas had never delayed the Christmas-Eve journey so long before, and so here they were to save him the trouble of going for them. The Nicholas children felt that they never could face the poor little reindeer's disappointment.

But what was Mother Nicholas doing so busily over there by the cupboard? The children looked in amazement. It was seldom that mother left the snowhouse at any time of day. And here she was, after dark, and Christmas Eve, too, putting on her hood and cape, and pulling on her gaiters!

"Are you going to drive the reindeer back to the stables?" asked the oldest boy. "Oh, please, let me. Father always lets me, you know."

Mother shook her head. "I'll not be driving them back to the stables until this night's work is done," she said. "If you're awake when we get back, you may do it as always."

How the children stared! "Was little old mother going all alone on that long, wild drive over towns and down chimneys, and goodness knows where, without asking St. Nicholas if she might?"

Yes, that was just what she was going to do! "For, when a good thing needs doing," she said brightly, "no permission is needed."

"Keep the fire going, be sure that the baby has the fur rug well up around his chin, and give your father a good breakfast when he wakes," she called over her shoulder and was away out of the door almost before they had realized that she was going. They heard the scampering of the reindeer hoofs, faster the dimmer they got, and then just the stillness of the North pole.

That was last Christmas Eve. And if you ask any child who lay awake to see St. Nicholas, and peeped out with one eye, all the time pretending to be fast asleep, he will tell you that it wasn't St. Nicholas he saw at all. It was just a tiny, sprightly old lady with frosty white curls and a red hood, who filled naughty Willie's stocking just as full as good Marguerite's, and left many more bon-bons in both than was usual. That peeping child will also tell you that before she went back up the chimney, she gave baby a kiss on his pink cheek, a thing St. Nicholas (who is as afraid of babies as a burglar is, and for the same reason) has never been known to do.

And mother, will you believe me, in spite of having stopped to kiss all the babies, was back at the North pole a whole hour earlier than St. Nicholas had ever been able to make it, even in his younger days. Her work was well done, too! But in spite of the early hour, she found the children and her husband waiting for her. St. Nicholas welcomed her back more affectionately than the children.

"I woke in the middle of the night," he said, "out of such a horrid dream—all about crying children and sad mothers. Bless you, good wife, for not letting that dream come true!"

"Oh, don't mention it," said Mother Nicholas. "It was no trouble at all. Indeed, it did me good. I think, father, since you are getting so old, I will take over this job myself from now on."

St. Nicholas looked thoughtful at that. He paced up and down the floor. Then he came and stood in front of Mother Nicholas, straightening up and looking almost as young as in his early days.

"No, mother," he said firmly. "A woman's place is in the home. I'll attend to the business hereafter, thank you."

And mother, who, after all, only wanted everybody to be happy, made him some griddle cakes for his breakfast.

But that was last year, the year you got a stocking full, even though you hadn't been so very good. This year you had better watch out, for it is old St. Nicholas himself you have to deal with.

Party Supper Boxes.

Where there is seating room at the Christmas-time party refreshments are appropriately served in small boxes covered with red paper or holly patterned paper, and tied with gay ribbons in holiday color. Each box contains a sandwich, slices of cake, nuts and candies daintily wrapped in wax paper. A tissue paper napkin, in Christmas design, is folded in each box. When each person has received his or her supper box the coffee and ice cream are served and the contents of the box are eaten with it. The pretty boxes can be retained by the guests as a souvenir, or "favor," if they like such things.

Choosing the Holly.

Superstitious people assert that one should be careful about the choice of the holly for the decorations. Part should be smooth and part prickly. Then providing both kinds are carried into the house at the same time, all will be well. But should the prickly variety be taken in first, then the husband will rule the household during the coming year; if the smooth is brought in first the wife will be "top dog."

Shopper Loses Baby, Finds It In Mail Pouch

Cleveland, Dec. 23.—Amid the hustle and bustle of a large crowd, of Christmas shoppers in the main post-office Friday came the cries of a mother for her lost infant.

While the mother was addressing Christmas packages at a table in the lobby, she placed the child in a market basket, which she placed under the table. Her packages ready to be mailed, she looked for the baby. It had disappeared.

The basket, with its contents had been picked up by a postoffice employee and thrown into a mail sack. Cries from the child as the sack was about to be placed on a mail truck led to its discovery.

The woman refused to divulge her identity.

Lisbon Notes

Lisbon, Dec. 23.—The condition of Mrs. George T. Farrell, who has been seriously ill during the past week, is very critical today, and the attending physician gives very little hope that she can recover. She is lying in a semi-conscious state and her temperature is running extremely high.

Mrs. Farrell has been ill since Thanksgiving, but less than a week ago a gathering formed in her throat, back of the tonsils, and it is the poison from this trouble that has permeated her system which is responsible for her critical condition. Mrs. Frank Low and son, Billie, of Steubenville, were called here on account of Mrs. Farrell's illness.

Mrs. Herman Hemphill is very critically ill at her home on West Lincoln Way and there is very little hope that she may recover. Mrs. Hemphill has suffered for several years with pernicious anemia and has had several attacks from which it was thought she could not recover. She is now lying in an unconscious condition.

Bennett O'Brien whose illness was pronounced pneumonia by attending physicians Thursday evening, is reported to be a little improved. Miss Pyatt, a graduate nurse of Leontia, is caring for him.

Mrs. Joseph Alberts, Sherman st., is very ill with hardening of the arteries.

Mrs. C. J. Halverstadt, north of Lisbon, is ill with scarlet fever.

Pageant Given By Meadowbrook School Pupils

The annual Christmas concert of Meadowbrook school was held Thursday evening at Goshen grange hall. The entire program was given under the direction of Mrs. J. A. Conway who, with the able assistance of members of the Community club, presented a Christmas pageant of exceptional merit.

The incidents connected with the birth of the Christ child were graphically portrayed, the costumes being arranged in keeping with Eastern modes. All to whom parts were assigned acquitted themselves most creditably and the progress of the story was further illustrated by appropriate hymns and carols.

At the close of the program the social committee, under the capable direction of Mr. and Mrs. T. Carr, provided refreshments, and Santa Claus happened along in time to help unload the Christmas tree. Following is the complete program:

Chorus, "Tick-Tock," Miss P. Stratton and lower grades; recitation, Calvin Conway; recitation, George "Dolly's Prayer," Dessie Kiffe; recitation, Gustave Beckert; Butterfly drill (in costume), ten girls; recitation, Mary Cutson; Military drill and song, 13 boys; recitation, Wilhelm Beckert; chorus, "A Song the World is Singing," upper grades; comedy sketch, "Dr. Ketchum and Dr. Killum," older boys; piano solo, "Tarantella," Calvin Conway; recitation, George MisKimmmons; Doll drill, five little girls; recitation, "The Left Over Doll," Esther Lippert; violin solo, John Wolfert; recitation, "Christmas Shopping," Calvin Conway; presentation of Christmas pageant.

"THE LEATHER PUSHERS" STARRING REGINALD DENNY
UNIVERSAL-JEWEL COLLIERS SERIES

Manager Wiberg of the Royal theater announces another of the popular series of "The Leather Pushers," starting Christmas. It shows Kid Roberts winning new fistic laurels in his battle for fame, wealth and the one girl. As in the other stories of H. C. Witwer's series Reginald Denny, popular and virile Universal player, will interpret the stellar role. There is no gainsaying the fact that "The Leather Pushers" series is the most popular short length features ever shown in this city. What Kid Roberts is going to do in the next "round" is looked forward to with interest. However, the beauty of this series is that each one is complete in itself. If you miss one you can go on with the rest and not be wondering what it is all about.

Denny and Hayden Stevenson, as the Kid's manager, together with Harry Pollard, the director, are giving enjoyment to thousands.
